

With regard to eliminating Morse Code as a requirement for some classes of Amateur Radio Licenses, I agree with the petition filed by the FISTS organization. Not only is Morse Code a badge of personal satisfaction and achievement, it serves a greater purpose by being historically the means for reliable communications during the most severe spectrum disruption. Morse is readable when other modes of communications fail.